POLICE GET XMAS STOCK

It's going to be a dry, dry Christmas in some El Cerrito home tomorrow. The only drink on the table will be coffee or water, unless the diners know someone who knows someone else who knows someone else who knows a fellow who has "good stuff" and "drinks it himself."

For the El Cerrito police has locked up in one of the cells in the city jail, five gallons of whiskey, a gallon of wine, and a quart of something or other that no one has been able to figure out. The liquid, police say, smells like peppermint. So far, no one has stepped up and volunteered to sample it.

The alleged owner of the contaminated liquor, who gives his name and address as G. Noreant, 615 Fifth street, Richmond, is being held in the city jail, charged with possession and transportation of liquor.

Noreant was stopped at Lincoln and San Pablo avenues last night by Traffic Officer Floyd Gilbert of El Cerrito. Gilbert declared that he found the liquor in the rear of Noreant's car.

Taken to the police station in El Cerrito, Noreant protested that he didn't speak English, police say.

SOFT DRINK PERMIT
The city council last night granted a permit to sell soft drinks to J. Q. 35 Washington avenue. The license is a transfer from the previous operator of the restaurant.

POST OFFICE HAS BIGGEST CHRISTMAS IN CITY HISTORY

Christmas day will be a day of rest for Richmond postmen—and they'll need it.
While merchants howled the Christmas rush, and told how hard they had to work, the employees of the local postoffice faced one of the greatest rush periods in the history of the local postoffice.
Without a word of complaint, the workers, steadily, and without lost motion, more than 65 employees and substitutes labored into the evening, sorting mail to be delivered at your door today.

It was after 12 o'clock this morning before many of the delivery men were able to go home to snatch a few minutes rest, before they return to the postoffice and start out at six o'clock this morning with their first delivery of mail to Richmond citizens.

At six o'clock last night, the mailroom of the local postoffice was a mass of letters, cards, and packages. In this pile of "debris" workers plugged away, sorting, marking and arranging the incoming and outgoing mail.

Carriers sat at their desks pignosing letters. Some had stuck after stacks of cards and letters tied and stored away while a huge mass of mail littered their desks, waiting to be sorted.

Ready for Delivery
Before each man could go home, he had to have his letters so arranged for easy distribution in the morning.

In one corner of the building was a pile of packages that has to be delivered today.

After the regular closing hours, a line of persons formed at a small door in the rear of the main room and handed their articles to be mailed through a small opening in the door.

And throughout the night a steady stream of letters and cards came through the slots and piled upon the receiving table like a huge snow drift.

Writers Rushed
And judging from some of the letters sent in, the writers were rushed. Some letters bore stamps and a name but no address; some bore addresses but no names; some were properly addressed but had no stamps while even some had no name, address or stamps.

There will probably be four or five deliveries of mail today. Postmaster James N. Long stated. He declared that this has been a bumper year for first class mail, although parcel post and package mail has been about the same as last year.

Aids Landed
Long lauded Assistant Postmaster Paul Wagner and John A.
Taylor, superintendent of mails.
Long stated that Wagner and Taylor are responsible for the efficient method in which the local mail is being handled and for the speed that is being made.

He declared there will be no regular delivery of mail Christmas day. However, parcels and packages will be delivered Christmas day.

be the center of festivities.

Hiller. General arrangements are

Carlson, director of the Richmond Y. M. C. A.

HELEN WILLS LEAVES ON HONEYMOON

HERSHEY, Dec. 23—(UP)—Under a star of Bethlehem, brilliantly illuminated and poised in the rafters of St. Clement's chapel, Helen Wills was married to Frederick Moody, Jr., today.

After her marriage she posed with her husband for photographers and then hastened away on the secret honeymoon. It was presumed tonight that the couple had sailed for San Pedro, there to board the yacht Galatea for a honeymoon.

The bride and groom slipped into the back door of the chapel, almost unnoticed. Readings of the service by the Rev. L. H. Miller lasted 10 minutes, and was heard by only six members of the immediate relatives.

The service read was after the new Episcopal law, in which the bride was not asked to "obey" her husband and he was not required to promise bestowal of all his "earthly goods" upon his wife.

Moody slipped the ring on his bride's finger without any personnel. Miller said, and the pastor also noticed it was of simple design.

Meet Reporters
Then the bridal couple walked calmly to the front door and met the gaze of several hundred persons, mostly children and photographers. Mrs. Moody Jr., hastily estimated the distance she was from the cameras, and gracefully stopped at the most advantageous point. In an undertone she told her husband to stop.

The bride showed no outward sign of nervousness but she appeared to have a difficult time holding such a pose.

"I am never nervous," she proudly exclaimed. But her words were cut shorter than usual. She was smiling, as was her husband.

Like London
This is very much like London," she informed her husband, a young stock salesman of San Francisco, evidently referring to her presentation to the Queen of England last summer.

Miss Wills was attired in a plain brown suit, trimmed by red and blue silk woven together to form an edging half an inch wide.
Moody was dressed in a gray suit and his shirt was tinted with gray. His black tie was striped with white.

Both wore felt hats with a touch of brown.

Simple Ceremony
The ceremony commenced that the wedding had been just the same as thousands of others at which he had officiated.

During the ceremony, three small boys, derived pleasure by peeking into the chapel through a small crack in the barred front door and announcing to the crowd when the couple was kneeling down.

After the party went to the home of the bride's parents for a "wedding breakfast," although it was then past twelve noon.

They vanished from the home a short time later for the "unannounced honeymoon."

YACHT AWAITING AT SAN PEDRO HARBOUR
SAN PEDRO, Dec. 23—(UP)— The 40-foot yacht Galatea, on which Frederick Moody, Jr., and his bride, the former Helen Wills, are expected to spend their honeymoon, was provisioned at the California Yacht Club, off Wilmington, today, it was presumed that the couple would board the Galatea Tuesday.

But Won His Bet

EXPULSED from Layton county high school, England, because he dared to write Prince of Wales for autograph, Geoffrey Gill was forgiven by school authorities and taken back. Mates are shown above welcoming him back to his classes.

WHITE YULE FOR EAST

CHICAGO, Dec. 23—(UP)—It's going to be a white Christmas in the middle west, so thoroughly white that Santa Claus likely will have to provide his reindeers with snow shoes to keep from losing them in the mountainous drifts.

The whole area, already covered with some two feet of snow, was doused with several inches more of snow tonight. More than six inches fell in Chicago and the heavy flakes continued to swirl down.

The storm will last through most of Tuesday, said C. A. Don-nel, government weather forecaster. Temperatures generally were moderate except in the St. Paul area where thermometers dropped to sub zero readings.

The newest storm swooped down just as railroad and highway workers were beginning to restore travel to normalcy. For days the trains have been hours late and many roads have been blocked completely.

The present storm, it was believed, will further delay trains, disrupt airplane schedules, and keep roads closed at least until after Christmas day.

INDICTMENT OF SLAYER ASKED

OAKLAND, Dec. 23—(UP)—An indictment charging Ernest Diaz, 24, with the double murder of engaged couple Stanley Montero and Mary Munoz, will be sought from the grand jury immediately after Christmas, the district attorney's office said today.

Paul St. Sure, assistant district attorney, said Diaz, who was recently released from a state hospital, had repented to him today the confession he had made to police Sunday.

Diaz, according to authorities, admitted the shooting, claiming he had approached the car only to kidnap the girl.

Auto Accident
Injures Woman
Mrs. J. Peterson was slightly injured when the car in which she was riding with her son, J.
A. Peterson, 1012 Peralta avenue, Albany, collided with a car at San Pablo and Barrett avenues, police report.

The Peterson car came in collision with a car driven by M. C.
Barrows of Tacoma, Wash., according to police reports. Both cars were badly damaged.

JUDGE HIT AS DRY BOARD MEMBER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23—UP—Dismissal of Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick, Los Angeles, as a member of President Herbert Hoover's law enforcement commission was demanded today by Senator Harris, Cal., one of the Democratic dry leaders, because of a speech McCormick made in Los Angeles.

In his speech McCormick denounced "governmental lawlessness" in prohibition enforcement, specifying "third-degree methods" and search and seizure in private homes without warrants.

Harris, who has been critical of the commission, recently introduced a resolution calling upon President Hoover to submit to the Senate a preliminary report of the commission's prohibition investigation.

Harris' move was approved by other drys who have been suspicious of the commission's intentions regarding prohibition. The Georgia senator brought his suspicions into the open in his statement today on McCormick's speech in which he said:

"His statement shows just what I feared was being done. I believe it is really an encouragement to violators of the law and it shows Judge McCormick to be such a partisan against the prohibition enforcement law that, however honest he may be, he is unfit to hold office on the commission."

"Unless the commission stops its secret sessions and comes out in the open its usefulness is impaired to such an extent that its report will be given no weight." The prohibition forces of the country will be greatly disappointed if the President does not remove this man who has encouraged anti-prohibitionists as well as violators of the law."

JUDGE REFUSES TO MAKE COMMENT

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 23—UP—Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick has no reply to the demand in Washington, D. C., by Senator Harris that he be removed from President Hoover's law enforcement commission, he said tonight.

"I have no comment to make whatsoever," Judge McCormick said. "I am not in politics."

CITY APPROVES COST OF STREET

The city council last night approved an estimate of cost of the Parr-Richmond Terminal corporation for the improvement of a street about one block long connecting Tenth street, south, with the south end of the new wharf recently constructed on the inner harbor.

The cost of the work is $4124.90, according to the estimate approved last night.

Josephine Kelly Called By Death

Miss Josephine E. Kelly, 65, who has been residing with friends here, died last night following a brief illness.

Deceased had lived with Mrs.
W. C. Brown, 217 Bissell avenue, for the past several months. She leaves a brother-in-law, Thomas Gulfof, of San Francisco.

The body will be sent to San Francisco today by Wilson and Kratzer for funeral services.

Police Probe Death Plunge

Potomac Boat club balcony is being probed by Washington police.

TWO SLAIN BY MADMAN

CAMERON, Tex., Dec. 23—(UP)— Anton Huebner appeared in the streets of Cameron today armed with an automatic rifle and killed two men in an apparent fit of insane before he was sent to the sidewalk with a bullet in his heart.

Huebner first went to the automobile agency of Hubert Heffley, where he stood in the door firing at everyone in sight. The first burst of shots sent Heffley to the floor dead. Constable Charles Sene was killed when Huebner turned his gun toward the officer.

The madman then leveled his gun at a crowd of citizens which had collected. One of them, Eugene Smith, was armed and dropped Huebner with a single shot.

Authorities believed Huebner shot Heffley because of a fight with an automobile salesman two years ago in which the car dealer struck the farmer, fracturing his skull.

A. PANTAGES 'NEAR DEATH'

Unless Alexander Pantages is released from the county jail, heart attacks may prove fatal, attorneys claimed today in filing a motion for his liberty on bail pending an appeal from his conviction on a charge of attacking 17-year old Eunice Pringle.

The request was accompanied by affidavits by eight physicians, all of whom attested that the mild-mannered showman was suffering from heart trouble. Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke set Dec. 25 as the date for arguments on the motion.

The affidavits set forth that Pantages' weight has fallen from 175 pounds to 125 pounds and that he had been refused an insurance policy two years ago. Dr.
E. C. Fitchbaugh, his personal physician, deposed that Pantages "may die within the confines of the county jail."

LIGHT ORDERED
Upon the recommendation of the light committee the city council last night ordered the installation of a street light at Twenty-first street and Barrett avenue.

BIRTH RECORDED
The birth of Stamatina Zanes, on Dec. 12, to the wife of George Zanes, 143 Twelfth street was recorded with the City Health department yesterday.

BANK ROBBER ACCUSED OF SLAYING 7

CHICAGO, Dec. 23—(UP)—Chicago's bloodiest crime, the St.
Valentine's day massacre, was charged officially for the first time today to Fred Burke, characterized as "the most dangerous man alive."

A "millionaire coroner's jury" held that Burke, bank robber, murdered gangster and gunman, was responsible for at least two of the seven murders in the massacre of last Feb. 14.

Action of the jury, composed of the city's most representative citizens, was the first definite move so far in the solution of one of the nation's most atrocious crimes. The massacre took place last February when seven gangsters were lined up against the brick wall of a garage and shot down with a barrage of machine gun bullets.

The jury held Burke responsible for two of the murders when Major C. C. Goddard testified that marks on bullets from machine guns found in Burke's home corresponded with tracks on bullets found in the bodies of Albert Clark and Rheinhold Schwimmer, two of the massacre victims.

Burke, meanwhile, was sought all over the United States after he shot and killed a St. Joseph, Mich.
policeman over a trivial traffic argument more than a week ago.

The latest clue came today from Madison, Wis., where Roy Buttlooth, motorist, and his wife said they picked up a hiker Sunday whom they identified as Burke.
Sheriff Harold Smedal immediately started a search for the man in the vicinity of Spring Green, Wis., where Buttlooth said he left the car.

Burke's $25,000 home in St.
Louis, where he had been known as a wealthy, retired oil man, dis-gorged a veritable arsenal, including two machine guns, and $1000 worth of rifles, pistol, and ammunition. In a closet was found more than $300,000 worth of bonds stolen last month from a Jeffersonville, Wis., bank.

Burke was characterized as "the most dangerous man alive," by "Pat Roche," chief investigator for the state attorney's office. Roche said Burke was wanted in half a dozen states for crimes ranging from simple robbery to murder, and as the leader of one of the most successful gangs of robbers ever to operate in the middle west.

62 CASES IN POLICE COURT

The Richmond police court handled 62 cases during the month of November, according to a report filed with the city council last night by C. A. Odell, police judge.

The court collected $1022 in fines, of which $527 was for violation of the motor vehicle act and $495 from other sources.

Of the cases, fines were collected in 29 cases, bail was forfeited in nine. Three commitments for confinement were issued. Two suspects were held to answer to the superior court.

"CHRISTIAN SCIENCE" TOPIC OF LECTURE

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS PETER V. ROSS

A large and appreciative audience gathered at Lincoln auditorium Sunday afternoon and listened to a lecture given by Peter V. Ross, C. S. B., of San Francisco under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Richmond.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. William V. Metz, of Richmond, who spoke as follows:

Friends: The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, showed great spiritual wisdom in not only discovering in the Bible the principle of the wonderful healing truth which Christ Jesus said would make up the world in giving it to the world in such a simple form in the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and her other writings that all may gain an understanding as to how to apply it in their every day needs.

Mrs. Eddy also established the Christian Science Publishing Society, where all authorized Christian Science literature is published and sent out into all the world. Mrs. Eddy's writings, together with this literature, are teaching men to do the works as you know, the Christian Science names for God.

These works are enumerated in the Gospels of Matthew and Mark: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils. Freely have ye received, freely give."

Another means which Mrs. Eddy established for the giving out of this truth, is the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., whose members go forth into all parts of the world, taking this healing, regenerating message of love to all mankind.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city, welcomes you this afternoon to hear a member of this Board, who will give you an outline of Christian Science, and tell you how you can apply its teachings to your every day problems.

It is my privilege to introduce to you, Mr. Peter V. Ross, C. S. B., of San Francisco.

Not far from Chicago, as you all know, is a town which has become widely known in recent years partly because its leading citizen insists that the earth is flat. At once the question arises: Where is the flatness? Certainly not in the earth, but in this man's mind. It exists there as a belief or an illusion. Some day the simple truth that the earth is round will dawn upon the mind of this flat-headed man, and in an end; it will be cured. The whole affair, therefore, exists in the mental realm.

More and more in these days, we are transferring all things to the mental realm. Christian Science puts disease there, along with evil, and insists that disease, instead of being a physical condition, instead of being a stubborn reality, is a belief or an illusion of the human mind which the truth will cure.

PERFECTION OF MAN What is the truth that will cure any person of his suffering? Simply this: God has made man perfect and maintains him in perfection; and whenever any individual, whatever his suffering may be, begins to grasp the fact that God has fashioned him in perfection, he will necessarily begin to grasp his belief of disfigurement and step forth into the liberty of the sons and daughters of God.

It is inconceivable that God should have made anything imperfect. Flaws in the universe would bring the universe to an end. And the perfect man under consideration is not away off in the clouds. He is not a man yet to be born or come into existence. The perfect man is here and now, and you are the man.

Not your outward physical self. Confessedly, he is imperfect enough. The perfect man is your spiritual self, the man God has made you. Your supposed physical self is really not a man, is really not you. It is the human man's mistaken sense of what you are. As you begin to realize that God has created you in spiritual perfection and hold to this realization as best you can, and repudiate the suggestions of evil and sickness as lying and illusory, the mistaken sense of yourself as material and mortal begins to melt away and pass out of your experience and the true sense of yourself as spiritual and free comes into more and more of your experience.

Then it is that your health is better, your morals improve, your intellectual faculties expand, and your capacity for doing things enlarges, because you are commencing to find yourself, you are getting acquainted with the genuine man God has made you.

Several months ago a woman visiting relatives in one of the great cities of the North found one of her knees so painful that she could scarcely get around the house. While she was in this condition her relatives induced her one evening to attend a Christian Science lecture. She was decidedly interested in the discourse, and the next morning discovered herself moving about in perfect freedom. This knee was all right, declared on page 516 of her great book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." "Man, the image of God, is immortal, and reflects God's dominion over all the earth" (page 516).

Now we must keep in mind that the man endowed with freedom and dominion, the perfect man we here have under consideration, is not physical man. Christian Science claims neither perfection nor permanence for him. What we call physical man is really not man but only the human mind's distorted picture of man, for the human mind has a false, limited vision and does not see man as God has made him, his supposed physical self, with his heaviness and limitation and disease, is not actually you but the erroneous human sense of you, and as you gain the true sense of yourself you necessarily lose the false sense. This is what Paul styles putting off the old man and putting on the new.

How near God is after all! Flow inparable from every one of you! You have striven to find him. You have striven to find the genuine man you believe he made you, or all the time God has been at hand. All the time your perfect self, though not confined to any limited area because spiritual man is unconfined, has been here, right where you imperfect, suffering self has seemed to be. Paul sums up the whole situation when he declares that God is above you, in you, and through you; and when he further declares that in God you live, move, and have your being. This shows where God is. It shows where you are. You are in Him, and He is manifested through you. Hence the at-onement of God and man.

Yet with all this nearness you cannot see God. You cannot see Mind and Life, though you can see their expression in man. Well, you cannot see beauty except as you see it exhibited in the bird. You cannot see beauty itself as an abstraction. It has to be identified in something before it becomes visible. One day when Jesus was talking to his disciples, Philip impatiently interrupted him with the demand: "Show us the Father." Jesus replied, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." That is, he who has seen the real man has seen God expressed, has seen an expression of divine Mind and Life.

Constantly you are aware of this expression. You are continuously aware of the presence of intelligence, are you not? So far as that intelligence is sound and good it is the manifestation through you of all-knowing Mind; and when you feel the energy and the movement of Life you are feeling the presence of God. If God is Life, your Life and your intelligence, that He is closer than hand or breath, closer, if could be, than thought. He finds expression through you, making you, "The temple of the living God."

PRAYER OR TREATMENT At this point you may recall Mrs. Eddy's radiant words, "You are well, and you know it" (Miscellaneous Writings, page 220). Why are you well? Because the Life manifested through spiritual man, and hence through your genuine self, is God, a Life which knows no pain, obstruction, or limitation of any kind. And how is it that you know you are well? Because divine Mind equips you with a vision that sees through the shadowy illusions of disease and recognizes the perfection in which God has clothed you.

Conditionation upon spiritual truths and realization of their power is prayer, for prayer consists not so much in asking God for help as it does in realizing that already He has supplied us everything needful. Such prayer tends to awaken us from the dream of limitation and suffering and leads us to the boundless plenty and opportunity and freedom that God has showered on all hands. Then we begin to realize that heaven is here and now, awaiting our recognition of it; begin to realize that eternal Life is here and now and that we have already entered upon it.

These sublime truths may at first seem dim and remote. But as you meditate on them, and discern their reason and significance, they become transparent and vital. More than this they become operative in the affairs and conditions of everyday experience and transform your life for the better, supplanting weakness with strength, wavering with purpose, failure and discouragement with confidence and usefulness. Then is the word made flesh.

DISCOVERY OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE What we knew about Christian Science has come to us through Mary Baker Eddy. This Science was revealed to her in the year 1866. She was a New England woman, refined and intensely religious. She had her full share of trouble and suffering. Finally, as a result of an accident, she reached the point in her career where her physician informed her that she could hope to live only a few hours longer at most. In this extremity she turned to her Bible for consolation. She had always been a profound student of the Scriptures. And while reading one of the Gospel accounts of healing performed by Christ Jesus she felt a sense of peace and strength steal over her.

She arose, dressed, presented herself to anxious friends sound and well. Other people have been healed with reading the Bible. Nobody knows how many. But Mrs. Eddy was not content with being of some of your friends, perhaps, who have a new body often, that they have a new overcoat. There is not a person in the audience who has not already had several different bodies and every one of you is due to have nobly knows how many more. Some of you have had twenty, some thirty, some perhaps sixty. And you put on one body and put on another, without any great amount of distress, did you not? It did not hurt so much. You survived the process. You lived through it all. Why? Because you are an individual consciousness wherein God continuously asserts Himself regardless of whether you lose your pencil, your overcoat, or your body.

You have a very different sense of body according to the varying state of your thought. When all absorbed in work you quite forget your body. It neither hurts nor bores. And how light and precise are its movements! At times, notably in your dreams, occasionally your body looms so heavy you cannot stir hand or foot. Sometimes in your dreams you have a long trip before you. You have to reach San Francisco, New York, or London, instantly, immediately you become aware of a body so light and free that it is out of the question to think of the globe if that is your destination. Meanwhile your friend sees you in your easy chair at home quietly nodding over the evening paper.

CONTINUITY OF LIFE All this should help you to understand what takes place when death comes and your present sense of body is abruptly abandoned. Evidently you still remain aware of a body, for as Mrs. Eddy says, in that wonderful way she has of saying things, "Mortals waken from the dream of death with bodies unseen by those who think that they bury the body" (Science and Health, page 429). Why unseen? Because of unbelief and dullness of vision. But when you go through the experience of death, you will still find yourself thinking and living in your consciousness, that consciousness God gives you, continues and persists on and on beyond the grave. It will survive your present body as it has already survived the twenty, forty, sixty previous bodies. Hence the permanence of individual man; hence your eternal life.

"Consciousness," says Mrs. Eddy, "constructs a better body when faith in matter has been conquered" (Science and Health, page 425). Here we see the importance of entertaining good and beautiful thoughts and rejecting evil and sickly ones. Consciousness grows by what it feeds upon. You grow by the kind of thoughts you entertain. There is no unforgiveness to your possibilities for unforgiveness if you govern your thoughts.

Right thinking is not far removed from prayer. And he who takes time every day to realize the presence of Mind and Life expressed through him will not be disappointed. He will find himself growing in vision and strength. He will come to recognize himself not as a mortal but as an immortal; come to know himself as God has made him, not as physical sense has tried to belittle him. Rising above limitations and dangers, he will come to the enjoyment of God-given powers and opportunities hitherto scarcely dreamed of. Heaven will no longer seem remote, eternal Life a thing of the future.

How may one develop this vision that enables him to see himself and others in the light of the maddening vision of "body" which mortal sense would clothe him? Being good, by holding to right and kindly and healthful thoughts, rejecting their opposites, by reverently realizing as best he can that divine Mind has saved him with this vision, and finally by gaining that sense of safety which comes as one recognizes that he lives in a world that is safe and among people who are good and kindly because governed by divine Principle.

As Paul worked along these lines he was, to use his words, "caught up into paradise" where he saw things as they are, and found them so marvelously beautiful that he could not describe them. In somewhat the same way John was uplifted and enabled to see the new heaven and the new earth wherein people do not have heavy clothing on. Imagine yourself in a world where you were divested of all heaviness and suffering. Paul and John caught glimpses of such a world here and there.

These men were not so different from you and me. They were still groping in the dubious twilight of mortal existence even as you and I; still struggling with the same temptations, the same infirmities, with which we struggle, yet at times they attained, and we can attain, the vision whereby men see things as they are in all their wonder and glory.

There are people right among us, in all this hurry and confusion of modern life, who in some measure enjoy this vision, but we hear little of what they see because people of fine sensibilities hesitate to voice their extraordinary experiences. They do not care to encounter the ridicule of ordinary mortals. I know a little girl and her aunt. They are both Christian Scientists. One day while they were down town they saw a cripple. Everybody was looking at him as he is usual on such occasions. The little girl, observing him and the people about him, said, "They don't see what we do, do they, Aunt Emily?" The little girl had glimpsed something of the real man right where the people thought they were seeing deformity and weakness; and she naturally supposed that her aunt, as a Scientist, was also glimpsing the perfect man in place of the grossly imperfect mortal outlined by physical sense.

You are not going to forget, then, that not only do you stand in the presence of a perfect God, but that you also stand in the presence of a perfect man. And that man is you. If you cannot do better than simply say these things you will be helped, because they are true, and the truth, when thought or declared, becomes dynamic. It goes to work to break up the dream and the illusion of limitation and suffering. But you will do better than merely repeat these statements. You will get the reason for them. In other words you will realize something of the presence of a perfect God and perfect man, and as you do you will the exalted love the belief of imperfection and distress that has been making your life a burden.

THE WORKS OF CHRIST JESUS The greater the man, if greatness be measured as it should be by spirituality, the more constant his practice to commune with divine Mind. This was exemplified in the life of Christ Jesus. The gospels often refer to his habit of prayer. Mark speaks of him on one occasion, as rising up a great while before day, going out to a solitary place and there praying. More and more in this way did Jesus become endowed with the divine Mind, more and more was his consciousness uplifted, until for him matter and mortality, with the limitation and suffering that in chase train, came to be. He emerged into the unobstructed realm of Spirit.

Then what power he enjoyed! At one time he desired to be across the time he desired to be across the lake. Immediately he was on the other side. On that same occasion he walked on the water in defiance of the law of gravitation. Gravity cannot pull or incorporate man, neither can time and space restrain him. Jesus annihilated lack or want, clothing the man whom he restored to reason and feeding the people who followed him out in the desert when he supplied them with a few loaves and fishes, was visible to physical sense.

HIS OVERTHROW OF DEATH Disease and evil, in their worst forms, became unreal to him and he made them unreal to others. Even death could not make good its boasts in his presence. He stopped the funeral at Nain, called back his friend Lazarus who had been gone four days, communed with Elias and Moses centuries after they had passed from mortal sight, and finally, in his personal experience, proved the truth of his own words, "If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death."

You all remember the occasions his stirring the forces of evil to the point where they were bent upon his destruction. His seizure of the temple, the tumultuousness of the night by the mob in the garden, the cruel execution, the hurried burial. Three days after he rolled away the stone from his sepulchre, appeared to his friends a number of times, talked with them, ate with them. At one time affirms Paul, he was seen by five hundred people at once. Then, at the end of forty days, he declared that he is, he became invisible to the physical eye. But this does not mean that he ceased to exist. Every man who has ever lived continues to live. And certainly this holds true of the greatest man the world has ever seen.

What had Jesus accomplished in this last scene of his earthly career? He had permitted his enemies to do their utmost to destroy him, apparently they had destroyed him, then he came back alive, the selfsame man. He had proved that individual life cannot be destroyed. You will see that your life cannot be destroyed nor brought to an end as you come to realize that you are an individual consciousness, not a physical body. Hence, the consciousness wherein Limitless Mind and imperishable Life find expression making you God's witness. He proved that individual life is indestructible and continuous; he stepped forth into the freedom and the power of an endless life, a state to which every one of us may rightly aspire.

For if you do not keep in mind that what Jesus said of himself is essentially true of you, if you do not keep in thought that what he did you can do so far as you understand his Science, you are losing the vital part of his message. He did not put himself in a class apart from you and me. He referred to his Father as our Father, which makes us all of the same family. Indeed we call him our elder brother, immeasurably wiser and better than we, certainly, but our brother still. He made it clear that what he did you can do if you believe and understand him.

And Christian Science is awakened

MOOSEHEART, MOOSE HAVE YULE PARTY

Of the children, by the children and for the children was the kiddies Christmas party given by the Moose lodge and the Mooseheart Legion in Moose hall last night.

The party was unique and original for the reason that no program was given. The committee in charge decided that the children should play games and enjoy themselves in their own way.

Santa Claus appeared on the scene after the children had marched around the hall, and presented each child with a bag of candy, nuts and fruit.

Ed Ridley, dictator of the Moose lodge, was chairman of the affair and was assisted by members of his lodge and the legion.

ODD FELLOWS, REBEKAHS HOLD YULE FETE

A most enjoyable program was offered at the annual Christmas party given by the Eclipse Odd Fellow lodge in the Odd Fellows hall last night. The party was given in conjunction with the Richmond lodge of Rebekahs and the Zephyr Rebekahs.

The program was opened by J. E. Turner, chairman of the committee in charge and master of ceremonies.

A group of Boy Scouts made the presentation of the flag; Aubrey Wilson talked on "Significance of Christmas"; a violin quartette composed of Marion Clarenbach, Amy Swartz, Robert Crisler, Donny Crisler, and accompanied by Myrtle Crisler, played several numbers; Home Vaughan played a harmonica solo; Melvin Price played a steel guitar solo; stunts were offered by Boy Scouts; The Matilda Meyer kiddies offered several dancing and singing numbers and Mrs. Madge Turner, accompanied by Miss Belle Woodford sang "Silent Night" to close the program.

After the program Santa Claus, depicted by Port Frank, presented all the children with candy, fruits and nuts.

He also presented Miss Matilda Meyer and Miss Emma Meyer who accompanied all singing and dancing acts of the children, with a gift on behalf of the Eclipse lodge.

STUDENTS CUT CLASSES FOR PICTURE

College pictures may be entertaining to the audience—but they don't entertain the faculty of any university near where they're made.

When Sam Wood started direction of "So This Is College," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's all-talking campus comedy coming today to the Fox-California theater, he assembled a big group of "college types," boys and co-eds.

After he's been several days on the picture, Professor W. R. MacDonald, of the University of Southern California, visited the studio and inspected the set.

"I thought so," said the professor. "About two-thirds of the university is playing hooky and working in the extra ranks of your picture."

Wood needed out the students and forced them to catch up with their college work before he'd permit them to work further in the picture, and arranged schedules so that they'd be used on Saturdays.

The new picture is a comedy drama, of the younger generation laid on the college campus. Robert Montgomery and Elliott Nugent, well known stage juveniles, Cliff (Keele Ike) Edwards, Sally Starr, M-G-M's new "discovery" in the heroine role, Phyllis Crane and Max Davidson, the character comedian are in the cast.

Talking Comedy, "Port Whines" and Sound Fables are also on the program.

SCANDIAS BEAT SOCCER CLUB

The Richmond Soccer club lost to the Scandias of Oakland by a 3 to 1 score Sunday in a tilt contest played at Nichol park.

Scandia assumed the offensive during the first half, and sent the ball into Richmond's net on a long try. The Richmondites continually besieged Scandia territory in the last half, but the Oaklanders broke away twice for two more counters. Richmond's lone score was made by Douglas Brain on a centered shot.

Sunday's defeat was the second loss that has been administered to the local soccerites by the Scandias during the present season. The first Scandia victory was gained three weeks ago in the Samuels Junior cup play in which the Scandias gained three points against Richmond's single counter.

Alcohol, Dope Taken By Thief

Theft of a gallon of alcohol and a small quantity of narcotics from Dills Pharmacy at 208 San Pablo avenue, is now being investigated by El Cerrito police. The drug store was broken into early Sunday morning and according to B. H. Dill, proprietor, nothing else was taken.

As drugs and alcohol seemed to be the object of the robbery, Chief of Police R. R. Check of El Cerrito, is working on the theory that the burglary was the work of drug addicts. The chief announced that fingerprints were being taken yesterday.

The burglary was discovered when Dill opened the store Sunday morning. A rear door had been forced open to gain entrance to the pharmacy.

Two men who fled in a car when Officer James Blankenship approached, had also tried to break into the Sneed drug store at 1528 Macdonald avenue. They first attempted to force an entrance into the Station Grill next door to the pharmacy, apparently mistaking it for the drug store.

New Industries

Richmond is rounding out the year with a creditable record of progress.

Acquisition of the Sea Food Packing Corporation gives two new industries within the last sixty days, and more deals are in the offing ready for an early closing.

The inner harbor, at the beginning of the year, was not much to look at. The land had been filled, but there was not a single structure there and the district was entirely without transportation facilities from the land side.

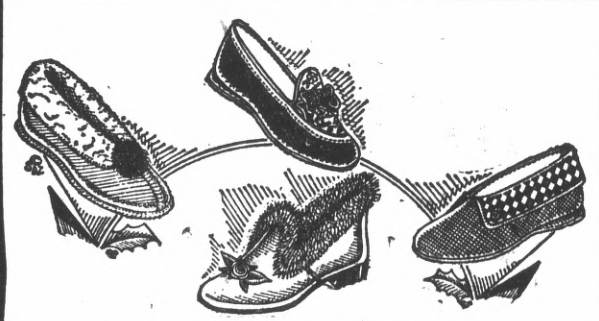

Today the Parr-Richmond terminal stands there as a monument to the earnest purpose of a united people. The plans have been completed for the new Filice and Perrelli cannery, work on which will be rushed at once. The Sea Food Packing Corporation will take steps to establish operations within the next few months. If these things have been accomplished in 1929, what may we not expect in 1930? The ground work has been laid for a great community development program, the results of which will show much more strongly in the next twelve months than in the last three years.

Richmond now has everything to offer—factory sites; transportation both by land and water; sewers, water lines and power connections; an accessible residential section; good working climate; a contented and happy people from whom to draw a supply of labor

The Chamber of Commerce views with satisfaction the work that has been done, but will not rest on its oars. Onward to greater things, must be our motto.

200,000 GIRLS ENROLLED IN AMERICAN GIRL SCOUT TROOPS

"What'll we do now?"

A universal query, a universal complaint. A publisher, looking upon such manifestations, observing the amazing inability of mankind joyously to utilize its leisure either enforced or voluntary once published a book which sought, through adolescent suggestions, to satisfy the adult need—and the book sold. The problem is by no means confined to the adult. When, of a Sunday or a holiday, rain spatters clean smears on window panes, you seek ineffectually to down your restlessness by every device familiar to all who've lived a rainy day of leisure at home. The problem of the growing girl is even greater, however, for, in addition to the adult's problems, she has that of her own driving surplus energy of youth seeking an outlet.

Many Members

At least 200,000 American girls of teen age have solved the problem represented in "home on a rainy day." They are the 200,000 members of the Girl Scouts in this country. Girl Scouting is teaching them ways of avoiding the problems attendant upon leisure. It is teaching them by the simple expedient of developing their resourcefulness, so that they may with their wits do battle with leisure's problems.

One of the most important phases of Girl Scouting is that concerned with the "merit badge," which betokens that its possessor has attained proficiency in the activity indicated by the specific badge. To attain a merit badge requires the acquisition of much learning, much more. To wear it on the sleeve of one's Girl Scout uniform signifies great honor.

Insofar as being "home on a rainy day" is concerned, the Girl Scout's merit badge has a dual significance. To acquire it (and the very existence of Girl Scouting acts as an incentive to earning merit badges), the applicant must make a careful study of such time and resourcefulness, thereby automatically found. Moreover, once the Girl Scout has earned a merit badge in a given field of activity, she has widened the field of her interests, has developed her initiative and resourcefulness, has been learning how to cope with problems, including that of leisure.

Must Work

If the actual bestowal of the merit badge is a joyous occasion, the process of earning it is no less joyous. For the Girl Scout knows that her activities are not work, but simply play with the same objective of universal preparedness. Not because the task is a disagreeable necessity, but because it's a profitable pleasure—therein is typified the Girl Scout attitude toward her activities.

What to do on any rainy day, when one can't go out of doors? Well, if the Girl Scout would earn the merit badge for home-making, she must, for example, "take pride in a perfectly clean sink." She must know how to keep the house clean, neat and orderly, and everything in good repair. And what does that mean to the homemaker, to the keeper of the house? It means that she must know how to wash dishes, how to take care of rooms, how to maintain conditions of sanitation, how to combat the housefly and the mosquito, how to dispose of kitchen waste (while recognizing that there must be no real waste), how to store clothes and how to battle with moths, how to store food, heat the house, guard the water supply, remove stains, set a table, and—piece de resistance!—how to cook.

Tests Told

Nor does home-making confine itself to these requirements, considerable and exacting as they are. For the homemaker must know things that precede the time when she can apply such information. She must be able to begin with the very rudiments. To achieve her merit badge, she must be familiar with considerations entering into the planning of a house and the selecting of a site for it. She must be able to draw clear plans for such a house and to outline the necessary furniture. She must be able to select from a number of heating systems and know why she makes a specific selection. She must take into intelligent consideration the problems of heating, of ventilation, of water supply, of furnishings, of painting of the house—of every one of the innumerable details that constitute the truly finished homemaker.

Things enough to do on a rainy day!

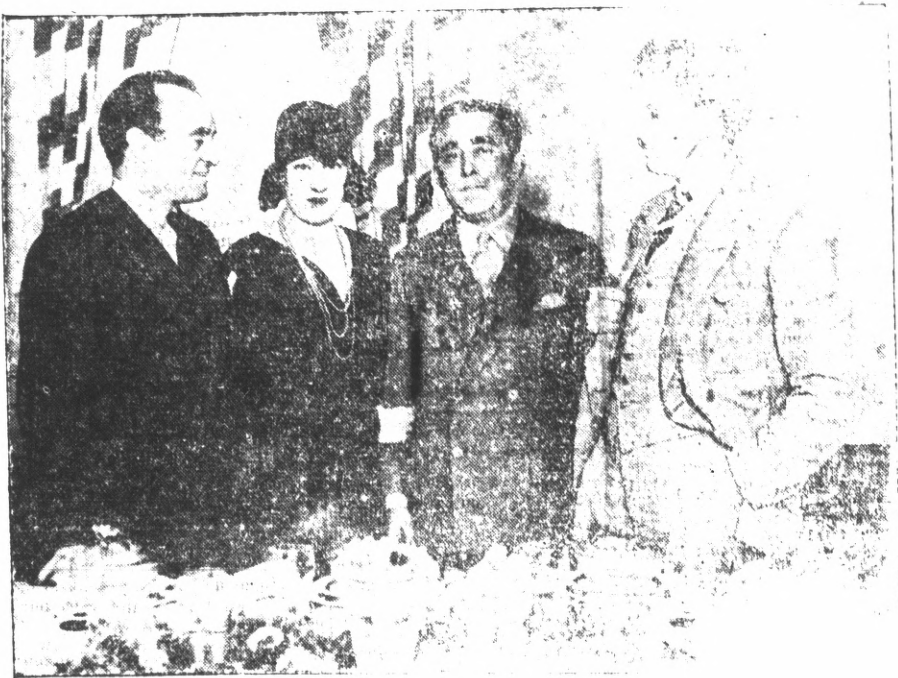

That home-making is no exclusive occupation for any Girl Scout on a day that's rainy or on one that's bright for a Girl Scout who's a homemaker or for a Girl Scout who's only striving to learn the vast knowledge essential to a homemaker. For the Girl Scout there are scores of desirable merit badges to be earned. And one merit badge is more important than another only in that one activity is of more interest to a particular Girl Scout than is another. For merit badges are designed in accordance with the Girl Scout motto: "Be Prepared." And to be prepared means for any emergency, for an contingency and no less for any routine.

Many Badges

There are scores of merit badges that demand one's intimate knowledge of the outdoors and of living and growing things. But on a rainy day one can't pursue studies in the out-of-doors. Well, enough, there's a merit badge for the artist, which to be earned, demands that the Girl Scout submit a drawing, a painting or a model of sculpture "which in the judgment of a competent professional represents a sufficiently high order of ability to merit recognition." Then there is the merit badge for the business woman which demands that the Girl Scout must have a neat and legible handwriting, a knowledge of spelling and punctuation and grammar, that she must be able to typewrite at a given speed and to take dictation in shorthand at a specified speed, that she must know how and when to use receipts, notes and drafts, how to write simple business letters, how to make out checks how to keep a check book.

There is a merit badge for proficiency in earning, and to earn it the Girl Scout must have extended knowledge of all procedures and contributing factors to the canning of fruits, vegetables, jams, jellies. There is a merit badge for the "child nurse," demanding a considerable if rudimentary knowledge of the principles of nursing. The merit badge for the citizen demands that the Girl Scout have a considerable knowledge of the principles upon Slandering the men of the A. E. F. is deemed in a leading editorial in the Georgia Legionnaire, official department publication of Georgia. It follows in part: "Have you noticed that a majority of the alleged war stories picture men of the A. E. F. as liquor drinking, women chasing loafers? According to the version of most of the after-war authors, the A. E. F. spent most of its time in Paris lapping up cognac and chasing 'la femme.' That's a bunch of slander. "The men who served across seas were two-fisted men and were not mollycoddles. They were not the low browed run hounds those authors would have the general public believe they were. "No finer, cleaner army ever fought than the American Expeditionary forces. The next time some bird starts spilling a lot of dirt about 'le guerre' poke him on the jaw. He's insulting those buddies of our who sleep in Flanders' fields."

PAPER SCORES A.E.F. SLANDER
